ORAL ORDER
(Passed on 3rd February, 2006)

Although it was maintained by the learned counsel for the petitioner in the course of argument that the respondents – authorities without calling for applications and without issuing notifications in that regard clandestinely have been granting authorizations to several persons to run fair price shops and without considering his application dated 13/04/2005 made to respondents 3 and 4 for grant of authorization to run fair price shop, when the Court pointedly asked the learned counsel to draw the attention of the Court to specific averments made in the petition in that regard, learned counsel though took considerable time, was not in a position to point out any averment made in the writ petition. The contentions raised before the Court is not supported by any pleading in that regard. No other point was urged before me. The writ petition is, therefore, dismissed as devoid of merit. No costs.
